What do you hope to experience at Wonder in the Woods retreat?

I offer workshops and retreats in the mountains near Idyllwild, CA. I believe it is important to experience the outdoors and learn from animals and nature. In this setting, I provide equine assisted therapy for my clients and would love for you to have a profound interaction with my 4 legged colleagues. Three-day retreats include equine assisted therapy, art therapy, connection with nature and experiential activities. One day intensive workshops include, The Work that Reconnects for more information check-out workthatreconnects.org. Please let me know if these workshops may be of interest to you in the future and I will provide additional information.
